Foods that rule!

Pizza, Macaroni & Cheese, Broccoli.

Favorite Slang:

Yo! Catch 'ya later, Dude!

Things that suck!

Nachos, Root Beer, The weather if it's warmer than 95F., Losing to Marco in tennis, Speed limits!

Things that rule!

Speed-death-metal, Camaros, Tennis (i.e. when I'm winning), Money, Cheap stuff... like CDs.

What I'm going to miss...

All the nice people I've met here. My car! The fact that I haven't got many obligations here. I'm free. Don't have to worry about grades and stuff.

Most embarrassing moment:

Went I locked the keys in my car! That sucked in a major way!

A clean-cut young man seen in a Danish airport. Oh, my! Things are indeed going to change for the worse!

Uhh, scary! That's right Ladies and Gentlemen... This picture really shows the transformation. The American society has simply turned him into a ferocious maniac! Step back and don't feed him, please!

RUSSIA

Favorite food: SuperMonster Pizza, chocolate stuff, everything that is not fat free.

Favorite slang: Get out of here, Oopsie, Let's do it, O.K.

Things I don't like: To sit at home and be bored, to hear "What's up, babe? Do you want to go out with me?"

Things I like: To go out with my friends, to stay busy, to dance and swim, to go shopping.

Things I'm going to miss: My host family, Archie and Shirley Miller , all the exchange students, my friends, driving a car, going out every weekend.

The most embarrassing moment: To ask somebody to pick me up, to explain for two hours how to get to Snow Camp, to get ready and wait for somebody for another two hours. To get lost on the road to Snow Camp at three o'clock in the morning without a map. I was seriously thinking about putting up signs to my house.

The Beauty and the Goofy

O boy! It's February and we are in China.
Can you believe that?!

“Yulia, what are we
gonna do without them (international students,
